Kellie has a brother Praise who is 12 years old. His mother Joyce is a patient attendant at Nkhoma Hospital. His father, Maxwell is a development facilitator. They wrote: "The salaries we get by the end of the month are not enough that we can manage to pay higher school fees for our child. This sponsorship will help us a lot because we know and understand that our child will have a good education background. Not only that but also he will stand on his own when he grows up and will have a good future."
