Matthew 7:1-2

“Do not judge, or you too will be judged. For in the same way you judge others, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you.”

Far too often, we as mankind, judge our fellow man harsher than we judge ourselves. We set standards that even at times we cannot meet, yet we judge others harsher when their standards do not meet our expectations. We make condemnatory judgments, which elevate us, while putting others down, when they do not agree with what we say or do. Too often we forget that God is the ultimate judge; but we should pray for those first who fall short of our expectations and use discernment to determine how best to help them. Let me encourage you, not to forget, that when we often point the finger at others, there are three pointing back at us!

The word of God says, “whoever you are who judge, in whatever you judge another you condemn yourself; for who judge - practice the same things.” Romans 2:1 (paraphrased)
